

Welcome to Criminology at

Introduction

Criminology is the study of all aspects of crime. The course we study here at college is a Level 3 Applied Diploma and it takes you on a journey of discovery of the different forms of crime, the roots and causes of it and how it is investigated. We also study the legal and penal systems, the roles of different personnel and how crime might be prevented.

If you are interested in crime, or you are maybe considering a career in the police, social work, the probation service, the law courts or forensics, then this course will offer you an excellent foundation.

Here, we've put together some interesting things for you to delve into as a transition before you start Sixth Form. Take a look.....

Things to watch:

1. The disappearance of Shannon Matthews

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=-9B1vrtoAlw>

What was the role of:

- The local community
- The press
- The police in the case?

2. The Story of Nick Leeson- the Rogue Trader

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=avMbu6cc4Eo>

- What crime did Leeson commit?
- What were the consequences?
- How was he caught?

Things to do:

Visit www.police.uk and find out about the roles of these various agencies:

- The British Transport Police
- The Ministry of Defence Police
- Action Fraud
- The National Crime Agency

Choose some of these different organisations involved in crime prevention and investigate what they do:
